Arena Problems Discussed by Council

A delegation of four persons representing the Coleman Curling Clubs, met council on Tuesday evening requesting the town to give consideration to assisting in the financial operation of the arena. A financial statement for the past season was presented, indicating the expenditure was greater than income.

Spokesman Chick Roughhead advised that the curling arena needed a new roof as over 100 leaks have developed and cannot be temporarily repaired.

Council members who are also directors on the Coleman Light & Water Company, approved a donation of $500 to cover the Curling Club's last power account for the season. Council suggested that the Curling Club get estimates of cost of completely repairing the roof and then bring the matter back to council for further discussion.

Hospital administrator Ernie Luini will be contacted and asked to call a meeting of interested parties to discuss the ambulance service for the Crows Nest Pass. The present owner of the service will discontinue the service as of June 1st.

Council have requested that the Crows Nest Pass School Division send in a detailed explanation of increased costs on the 1967 school requisitions. An increase of some $59,000 is anticipated.

Council requested that a termination clause be instituted in an agreement the town will sign to join the Preventative Welfare Service organization that is being formed in the area.

The resignation of Tony Occione from the town crew was accepted with regret. The town will advertise for the service of an equipment operator to work for the town.

Town employees will be asked not to park their vehicles on the north side of the Bank of Commerce in the area east of the town garage to provide more bank customer parking.

Attention Old-timers

Mrs. J. Bodisch who is in charge of arrangements for the Old-timers' Section of the Centennial Parade to be held on May 11th at 9 a.m., asks that all old-timers interested to please get in touch with her phone 563-3628, for the place of meeting and further particulars as soon as possible.

Mine Contract Welcomed

News of Coleman Collieries signing a 15-year major coal contract with Nippon Kokan, a major Japanese steel mill, is better than a shot of LSD stated Mayor John Holyk of Coleman, who expressed great enthusiasm for the future to the Crows Nest Pass.

The $160 million contract, signed by the Collieries, assures local residents that they will no longer have to live from one contract to another and can now plan on moderately long range improvements of homes and services.

Mayor Holyk felt that the towns of Blairmore and Coleman, which now both have sewerage systems, natural gas, good water supplies, ideal building sites and assured work in several industries, will be a great attraction for outsiders. He commended the officials of Coleman Collieries for the efforts they expended to negotiate the long term contract with his Japanese neighbors.

Postmaster Mel Cornett indicated that the contract would put Coleman back on its feet after a long period of deterioration since the International Mine closed.

Mr. Cornett, who is also a member of town council felt that the possibility of re-locating the town's business centre under a plan suggested by the Old Man Regional River Planning Commission was now possible and he felt that the news of the long term contract would encourage young people to go into business in the area.

I. W. A. Holds Seminar

Collective bargaining, Labor history, Job Stewards responsibilities and parliamentary procedure were the topics of discussion at a trade union seminar sponsored by Local Union 1206, I.W.A. in the Fort Macleod armories on April 15 and 16. Forty-five committee members from I.W.A. certified logging and mill operations in southern Alberta were in attendance.

The Fort Macleod delegation included representatives and wives of the employees from Fort Pellywood and General Coach Works of Canada Ltd.

Program arrangements, supervised by local union officers Michael Torscher, Tom Sprick, Fred Painter and Tom Zieffle, included community breakfasts and luncheons at the Ranch House Inn, climaxed by a smorgasbord supper and dance Saturday evening with music provided by Fitzpatrick's Orchestra.

Discussion leaders were Grant MacNeil, Director of Research and Education and Regional First Vice-president Jack Mackenzie.

Highlights of the seminar sessions were the presentation of the film "The Inheritance", depicting early trade union history and "buzz group" discussions on the subject matters introduced with visual aids. A panel discussion on current negotiations at General Coach of Canada Ltd. drew sharp criticism of official delays in the appointment of a conciliation board chairman and arrangements for a sitting of the Board, now expected early in May.

The Local Union officers reported on their constant efforts to expedite the required consideration by the Board of the deadlocked negotiations.

The week-end seminar was the first of a series sponsored by the Local Union. An accident prevention seminar, under the leadership of the Regional Safety Director, will also be held at an early date.

Couple To Reside In Lethbridge

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beddington of Coleman, left town last week to take up residence in Lethbridge.

The couple, residents of Coleman for more than forty years, were married in St. Alban's Anglican Church, while in Coleman Mr. Beddington worked as an engineer for both the International and McGillivray Mines, retiring about eight years ago.

The couple also lived for short periods in Vancouver, B. C., Cadomin, Nordegg, Waterton and Lethbridge.

Mr. Beddington was well known in the Pass for his musical talents, having organized a band in Coleman many years ago and later becoming a member of the now-disbanded RCME 31 Technical Squadron band.

The couple have two sons — Roy in Lethbridge and Fred, serving with the RCAP band in Winnipeg, Man., and four grandchildren.

K. C.'s Are Installed

James McNeil of Bellevue; Robert Zak and Walter Binda, of Coleman and Americo Marcial, Chas. Long, Jim Hobson and John Moque, all of Blairmore, were inducted into the Knights of Columbus at ceremonies held in Lethbridge April 18th.

A group of over 40 new members from various points in Alberta became members and attended morning Mass at Assumption Church prior to having breakfast at Park Plaza.

The group were then escorted to St. Basil's School where a mass installation, through three degrees was conducted by conferring officer Ed Torcher of Bow Island, assisted by a Calgary degree team.

The day-long events concluded with a banquet supper held at Park Plaza.

Shoot Set For June 10

The Willow Valley Trophy Club at its monthly meeting set June 10 the date for the annual Trap and Rifle Shoot. The event will again be held at the Antelope (Frank Lynch-Staunton) ranch, 12 miles north of Lundbreck.

Reports indicated that a successful game count was conducted March 25 by the Willow Valley Trophy Club.

Members in Willow Valley Zone F306 on the Watershed of Tod Creek and Camp Creek, conducted the survey and obtained much information. The club has conducted the game counts in this district for the past five years.

O.O.R.P. District Meet Held

The District No. 9 BC Order of the Royal Purple including lodges from Blairmore, Coleman, Fernie, Kimberley and Cranbrook, B. C., held a district meeting in the Blairmore Elks Lodge April 24, attended by 147 members.

A general meeting was held during the afternoon followed by a banquet supper served by the members of the Blairmore Elks Lodge.

The evening session started at 7 p.m. when new members were initiated into the Blairmore Lodge. Each of the Orders exemplified drill floor work after which the four visiting lodges presented a well enjoyed program of entertainment.

Presiding over the events was District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Ruby D'Echeverry of Cranbrook, B. C.

EXTENDS OFFICE HOURS
The Blairmore Canada Manpower Centre has now extended its office hours and will be open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Wandering troubadours will entertain visitors at Expo 67. Four mobile troubadour units, jugglers, singers, musicians and variety acts will follow the crowd.

Get your camera ready, the exciting Confederation Caravan is coming our way! It will be stopping at Pincher Creek, May 7 and 9; Blairmore, May 10, and Coleman, May 11.

The Caravan will provide you and your family with a thrilling stroll through Canada's history. To preserve this once-in-a-lifetime adventure, remember to bring your camera, color film and plenty of flash bulbs. You'll be able to photograph such unique exhibits as this one with tiny figures of the Fathers of Confederation surrounded by the builders of Canada — trappers, Indians and settlers of many callings. By all means, include members of your family in pictures like these—but here's a tip: for best results, tell them to look at the exhibit rather than at the camera. Good shooting!

Hospital Additions Now Underway

The Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board and the Canadian Union of Public Employees working at the hospital have both accepted the award of conciliation commissioner J. A. Hutton of Calgary.

In the matter of negotiations personnel policies for X-ray technicians as recommended by the Alberta Hospital Association have also been adopted by the local hospital.

The board has approved reducing the hospital from a 72-bed to a 60-bed unit to provide for the inclusion of solariums, more bathrooms and other much-needed units at the hospital as temporary measures until a new hospital is built in the 1970's.

Work has already commenced on the renovations and to date two solariums have been completed, and each features a television set—one donated by the Ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary and the other by an unnamed local person.

The improvements at the hospital will include renovation of bedrooms, upgrading all wiring in the hospital, installation of air conditioning in the surgical and obstetrical areas, provision of more staff and visitor washrooms, provision and addition of patient shower baths and rest rooms.

Two new incubators have been purchased for the hospital.

The board agreed to eliminate the miniature chest X-ray on admission to the hospital and this will be replaced by a Mantoux test as soon as all necessary arrangements are completed with the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.

Hospital administrator Ernie Luini announced that a public meeting is to be held in the Frank Community Centre at 7:30 p.m. on May 3, 1967. The general public is urged to attend this meeting.

Alex Weiss, local chartered accountant, was appointed as hospital auditor for the year.

Honored At Surprise Party

On April 22nd a surprise party was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. Tollite's Silver Wedding Anniversary in the Catholic hall. Mrs. Tollite, the bride of twenty-five years, was presented with a corsage of roses by her sister.

Dancing to the music of Pro's Old-time Orchestra, was the entertainment of the evening. At 10:30 p.m. all sat down to a delicious turkey supper with all the trimmings. The head table was costered with a two-tiered wedding cake (baked by Mrs. J. Bodisch) and iced and decorated by Mrs. C. Garner. Rev. W. Krowdz said Grace and made a short speech to which Mr. Tollite responded.

Their two sons, George from Kimberley, B. C., and John from Calgary, presented their father and mother with a TV set and the friends assembled presented them with an Anniversary Plate laden with silver dollars for which the honored guests very ably thanked all present.

What Blood is Made Of?

If one donation of blood were analyzed, a chemist would find the following:

WATER ..... a brimming tumblerful
PROTEIN ..... ¼ Cup
FAT ..... 1½ Teaspoons
SALT ..... ¼ Teaspoon
MINERALS ..... ¼ Teaspoon
SUGAR ..... a Pinch
OXYGEN GAS ..... 1 Tennis Ball Full

The thing is, if we took all these things and put them together in a bottle, we simply would not have blood. Something's missing, and the something is that mysterious but wonderful thing called LIFE.

Blood cannot be manufactured because man cannot manufacture life. LIFE can only be GIVEN by people through the GIVING of their blood. Giving blood is giving life. In this one deed we are endowed with the very power to life itself. So let's use it at the next Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Will They Kill Expo 67?

Governments, so prompt and eager to step in where they are neither welcome or needed, are pretty darn slow to stop efforts to kill EXPO. A few rapacious landlords may negotiate the fabulous job of publicity that has been done, and the wonderful contribution so many industries have made to this great event.

Some industries went in very deeply, even against their better business judgment, in a whole-hearted attempt to be good citizens, and give Canadians something to be proud of. No wonder big business sometimes grows cynical; for when it goes all-out to do fine things, it can get kicked in the teeth by the public, or by the greedy few who feed like barnacles on the great event.

For weeks, even months, we've heard government assurances that irresponsible increases in lodging will not be tolerated. They have talked and talked and hesitated and procrastinated, so that the news stories still come through of exorbitant rates now being charged to Montreal apartment dwellers to root them out before EXPO.

Governments, when they step into spheres where they are not wanted, always proclaim they are acting in the public interest. The "credibility gap" would not be quite so large, if they didn't take so long to step in where there is a clear case for action. It confirms my long-held belief that when governments do jump into a situation, it is usually done for the sake of power and political gain, and not, as so often claimed, in the public interest.

We know, personally, many families eager to go to EXPO, but growing fearful now because of these stories about how landlords are boosting rents. One young couple, who had planned to spend their honeymoon at EXPO, have now changed plans, fearful that it would be beyond them, for in their opinion, if apartment prices have been boosted so much, other items will follow—food, entertainment and the like.

EXPO 67 is one of the greatest things to happen in Canada, and has been engineered and promoted with great skill. Every family should try to have this mind-enlarging experience. Montreal itself, — a city of great charm and beauty, is worth a visit. Prices there, in my own experience, are not out of line, and the food is the best in the world. But its reputation, too, will be spoiled for years to come if it becomes a tourist trap during EXPO 67.

Let's have prompt action to stop money-grubbing landlords in their tracks!

Why So Much Blood?

In the period between 1940 and 1945, great advances were made in the knowledge of the properties of blood and the technical methods of handling it. It then came into its own as a medicine.

Today, much of the blood used in our hospitals goes to support extensive surgical operation which a patient would not survive without the help of blood transfusions. Nearly all chest, heart and brain surgery is in this category.

A patient needs all the strength he can get in order to recover properly, so blood is used to build a person up before and after major surgery.

Maternity wards need steady supplies of blood because in childbirth there is a constant risk of hemorrhage. Many mothers and babies owe their survival to blood transfusions.

Then there are the accidents on the road, in the factory and on the farm. There are blood diseases which must be treated by transfusion. Severe burn cases must be treated with whole blood and blood plasma. There is a variety of blood products which must be used to treat other cases.

Thirty years ago, people died because blood could not be used freshly as a medicine. Today, the doctors are able to save hundreds of thousands of lives because they have ample supplies of blood to help them. This blood comes from donors who freely volunteer to give it to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross, in turn, gives it to our hospitals who supply it free of charge to patients who need it. Blood is the greatest gift that anyone can give, because blood is life. When you give the gift of life, you give the most worthwhile thing there is.

Provincial Election Tuesday, May 23

EDMONTON — Premier E. C. Manning, in announcing a May 23 provincial election, has promised that Social Credit candidates will conduct a "wholly constructive, positive campaign."

In an interview Friday night, after he announced the election date and also that a plebiscite on Daylight Saving Time would be held, the premier said emphasis in the campaign would be on Alberta's great future.

"This province is on the threshold of a new era of unlimited potential. This will be the theme of our campaign," he said.

"We will not resort to cheap politicking nor to smear tactics. We will deal with the issues."

The premier was referring to the possibility raised in some quarters of a name-calling campaign arising from allegations of impropriety against two Social Credit members made by a member of the New Democratic Party.

Mr. Manning said a judicial inquiry ordered by the government into the charges against Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke, MLA for Rocky Mountain House, and E. C. Hinman, MLA for Cardston, would be held as quickly as possible.

"Plans will go right ahead for the setting up of terms of reference, special counsel and all the things that must be done," he said.

The campaign emphasis on the province's great potential — both physical and human — will incorporate some of the concepts and suggestions made in the government's far-reaching White Paper, the first of its kind in Canada, introduced in the Legislature this past session.

The premier explained that the May 23 election date was chosen because later in that month and in early June the province would be busy with the visit of Princess Alexandra and that in June and July there would be Centennial celebrations. He said he didn't wish to "interfere" with either of these.

The last day for nominations will be May 9.

The last provincial election was held June 17, 1963. This will be Alberta's first May election.

Standing in this last legislature was Social Credit, 58; Liberal, 3; New Democratic Party, 1. Two new seats have been added for this election.

The plebiscite to be held in conjunction with the election will enable Albertans to decide if they want Daylight Saving Time during the summer months. There have been a number of requests for such a vote, particularly from the urban areas.

On Friday, the day the election was called, the Social Credit Party had nominated candidates in 54 ridings. At least eight of the party members will not be running again. Some are returning and others were defeated at nomination meetings.

Welfare Minister L. C. Halmrast, veteran member for Taber-Warner, and former ministers James Hartley of Macleod and Robin Jorgenson of Pembina, will not be running in this election.

This will be Mr. Manning's seventh general election as premier. He was elected in the first Social Credit sweep in 1935 and made provincial secretary in the cabinet of Premier William Aberhart. He was sworn in as premier June 1, 1943.

Overinflation Can Damage Tire

Too many motorists have the distorted belief that an automobile tire can stand air pressures up to 50 or 60 pounds. Possibly they can under laboratory test, remarks the Canadian Highway Safety Council, but pressure in a standard automobile tire should never go above 32 pounds.

Overinflation is a dangerous condition for any auto tire, said the Council. Tires run hard and are extremely sensitive to impact damage and weakening of the tire body. Overinflation also causes excessive wear in the centre of the tread. A tire with too much air pressure is more likely to suffer fabric breaks.

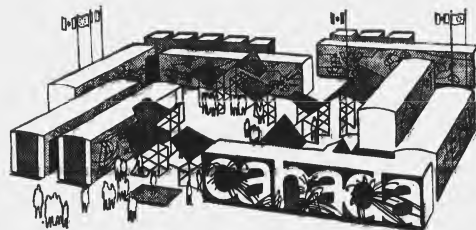

The manual that comes with a new car provides proper inflation recommendations. Service stations have data books that show proper inflation for every tire on every car. The Council and the Rubber Association of Canada consistently stress the importance of proper inflation to extend the life of a tire as well as enhance its ability to give a smooth, safe ride.

Report From Parliament Hill

(Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

April 13, 1967

The Defence Forces of Canada

The present session of Parliament is at long last coming to an end, and the so-called "Centennial Session" will probably commence in about three days following the close of the present session.

Government plans for the new session are that it will be very brief. There is to be no legislation, and only consideration of the Spending Estimates (the main job of Parliament), the Throne Speech and the Budget. If nothing happens to upset these plans, this new session should finish about July 1.

The present session is already the second longest in history, and may well end up being the longest before it is finally terminated.

Quite frankly, the sooner the present session is ended, the better. M.P.'s in all parties are becoming mentally exhausted and nerves are becoming frayed with all too evident results.

This session has produced some very important legislation, such as the Bank Act, and the Transportation Act. The discussions concerning the Transportation Act showed Parliament at its very best. This piece of legislation is highly complicated and technical and required months of careful study; the Government accepted dozens of important amendments as a result of these discussions.

On the other hand, the session has been unnecessarily lengthened by the Government's introduction of legislation, such as the Armed Services Unification Bill, which has caused more angry debate in Parliament than any matter since the Pipe Line and Flag Debates.

The purpose of the Bill is to do away with the Navy, Army and Air Force as separate units, and make them over into one service. In doing this, the sailors will lose their traditional blue uniforms. In fact, all members of the Armed Services are to wear a green uniform.

The tradition of joining the Navy to wear the sailor's uniform will be a thing of the past under the proposed Bill. Many hundreds of new and unnecessary changes will be forced. In addition, there will be no saving of the taxpayer's dollar and Naval Officers and others have argued in Committee that efficiency will be lower and it will be harder to recruit men because traditions back of the Army, Navy and Airforce will be gone.

Hence, officers are resigning, claiming that irreparable damage will be done to the fighting capability of the Canadian Armed Forces; in fact, so much so that Canada may need to lean on the United States for protection. I am one who believes that we want good foreign friends, but at the same time, we want to be in a position to stand on our own two feet, and rely on no one for our protection, except ourselves.

of plastic, does not scatter when broken. The pieces adhere to the plastic sheet. Wire glass which has a layer of imbedded wire mesh, also tends to keep its pieces intact when broken.

Mrs. Bagdan advises anyone who has non-safety glass door to put a horizontal safety bar along the door at the handle level. In the case of non-safety glass bathroom partitions, it is a good idea to put a rail on the walls and adhesive strips on the floor. A non-safety glass wall panel can be made safer by putting a tall potted plant in front of it. Keep this area and the area in front of non-safety glass doors free of scatter rugs and toys, says Mrs. Bagdan.

This Week:
The Claresholm Homemakers Guild sponsored a highly successful cake decorating class in Claresholm on April 12th. Mr. Joe Blackmer from Coultis, was the instructor. We had an attendance of 35 ladies from Graman, Claresholm, Staveley, Parkland and Nanaimo areas and even as far distant as Mossleigh, several of whom returned in the evening to practice the techniques they had learned.

Thank You

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the Doctors, Nurses and Staff of the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital for the kindness and care extended to me while a patient in the hospital.

I would also at this time like to convey my best wishes to my old friend, Mr. Bud Clark of Calgary and trust he is keeping in the best of health.

Mr. Earl France.

In Memoriam
In Loving Memory of Our Dear Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Rushton, who Passed Away April 26, 1966.

The flowers were placed upon your grave
May mother and decay,
But our love for you
Who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.

Our hearts still ache with loneliness.

Our eyes shed many a tear;
God alone knows how we miss you

At the end of this first year.
No morning dawns, no night returns

But what we think of you.
Those left behind are very dear

But none replaces you.
Always remembered by daughter

Lillian, son-in-law Frank and grandchildren, Frank Jr., Keith, Richard, Kenneth and Susan.

Your Home Is a Living Thing:
Why do some homes mellow with age while others just age?

The first group are products of the care and thought that went into their planning and construction, says Donna Bagdan, Home Design Specialist with Alberta's Extension Service. She advises anyone who is shopping around for ideas, plans and designs for a new home to bear this fact in mind.

Before starting the construction of a new house you should spend about two years planning it during this stage. You should seek the advice of such professionals as an architect or an interior designer. Building a new home is a major investment from every angle and as such requires a great deal of thought. Quick decisions can be expensive, disappointing and even disastrous.

Mrs. Bagdan points out that investing in a new home means investing more than money unless you are content to have one just like those you see around you. Your house should reflect your family's personality and tastes, and suit its need and pattern of living.

For those interested in building a house, a useful guide entitled "So You're Planning To Build a New Home", is available from the Extension Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Glass Doors and Partitions In The Home:

Although sliding glass patio doors, frosty glass partitions in the bathroom, and glass wall panels can be very attractive in a home, they can also be a potential hazard. A person who accidentally walks through a non-safety glass door or falls against a non-safety glass shower partition can be seriously injured.

Donna Bagdan, Home Design Specialist with the Alberta Extension Service, points out that there are several types of glass for home beautification, some of which have varying degrees of safety and some of which are not safe at all.

Tempered safety glass is five times as strong as ordinary glass and the least expensive safety glass. When broken, it shatters into salt-like particles with no sharp edges.

Laminated safety glass, comprised of two or more sheets of glass held together by a centre sheet
